

The Carbine Club of NSW

Ross Reynolds

Born: Orange NSW 1958

Carbine Club Member since: 2010

Current Employment: Founder and Director of Reynolds Direct

A former Australian rugby union player Reynolds was a regular Wallaby selection from 1982 to 1987.

He made his debut on the 1982 tour of New Zealand, in 1984 was a member of the historic Wallaby Grand Slam winning team that toured the United Kingdom and also a member of the historic 1986 Wallaby touring team that won the Bledisloe Cup in New Zealand for the first & last time since 1949.

The only person in Australian history to play, coach and commentate for & on the Wallabies

Ross has held a number of Head coaching and assistant coaching roles across both Club and National teams. Including Australian Wallabies, ACT Brumbies, Gordon RC, Sydney University RC and currently with Mosman Whales

An expert Rugby commentator with the ABC for 25years, Ross has covered everything from match of the day games to NSW games and Test Rugby.

Ross founded and directs Reynolds Direct, a consulting company specialised in 'soft skills' training, public speaking, leadership, business development and advisory roles in the construction industry.